

mexican pizza

i'm not listing quantities of anything on this recipe so that you can build your own pizza to your likings on any size tortilla

2 flour tortillas

refried beans

salsa

ground beef/chuck/sirloin already cooked with taco spices and/or sauce quesadilla melting cheese and/or mexican blend shredded cheese tomatoes, chopped

green onions, chopped

sliced black olives

1. preheat oven to 400 degrees F.

2. on a non-stick cookie sheet or pizza pan put down a tortilla. cover with a layer of refried beans and then another tortilla. cover the second tortilla with salsa as if it were pizza sauce. add a layer of ground meat and then cover with cheese. scatter tomatoes, green onions and olives on top.

3. bake for 15 minutes, or until cheese is melted.

a 6" tortilla makes a good sized dinner portion for 1 person. enjoy!
